NEW HOTEL OFFERS TOP LOCATION

Newly opened this month, the ultra-stylish Page8 enjoys one of the most enviable hotel locations in London. Spanning five floors on St Martin's Place, it's close to Trafalgar Square, The National Gallery, Covent Garden, Westminster and the shops of Oxford Street.

Rooms boast large windows overlooking some of central London's most famous landmarks, including the London Eye, the Colosseum theatre, and even Battersea Power Station. They also have state-of-the-art air purifiers – refreshing after a day's sightseeing.

Elsewhere, there's a sophisticated coffee house, Page Common, serving home-blend coffee, and the Sanremo Café Racer, a large rooftop restaurant and alfresco bar with views across the skyline. Prices start from £220 for a double room. Information: www.pagehotels.com

EXTRA FLIGHTS TO DUBLIN

Aer Lingus Regional will begin an extra weekday service between Glasgow and Dublin this April, making six flights a day, Monday to Friday.

The extra service, timed to complement onward connections to North American destinations including New York, Boston and Chicago – for which passengers can pre-clear US immigration and customs in Ireland – leaves Glasgow at 09.30, arriving 10.50, departs Dublin at 07.35, arriving in Glasgow at 08.55.
